RAA Bay to BIRDWOOD

The RAA Bay to Birdwood starts at West Beach, on the lands of the Kurna people, and concludes in Birdwood, on the lands of the Peramangk people. We pay our respects to Kurna and Peramangk elders past and present, and acknowledge their ongoing custodianship of these lands.

The History Trust of South Australia acknowledges the First Nations Peoples of South Australia, whose living cultures and connection to Country began in time immemorial and continue into the present. We affirm our commitment to the truth telling called for in the Uluru Statement from the Heart as a necessary contribution to reconciliation. Artwork by Elizabeth Close.

PREMIER OF SOUTH AUSTRALIA

The Honourable Peter Malinauskas MP

The Bay to Birdwood is one of the great events on South Australia's calendar – a much-loved celebration of cars, motoring history and the people who keep our automotive heritage alive.

For more than four decades, the Bay to Birdwood has brought South Australians and visitors together for a spectacular journey through some of our State's most beautiful landscapes. Since 1980, it has grown into one of the world's great historic motoring events, with more than 1,500 veteran, vintage and classic vehicles taking part in the 67-kilometre journey from West Beach to the National Motor Museum at Birdwood.

What makes the Bay to Birdwood so special is that it is about much more than the vehicles themselves. It is about the stories behind them – the memories, craftsmanship, engineering and passion that have been passed from one generation to the next.

It is also a uniquely South Australian experience. The sight and sound of hundreds of extraordinary vehicles travelling through the Adelaide Hills, with tens of thousands of people lining the route, is something that simply cannot be replicated anywhere else.

Our State has a proud motoring and manufacturing heritage, from Holden, Chrysler and Mitsubishi to the many South Australians who have designed, built, restored, raced and driven cars and motorcycles over generations. The Bay to Birdwood brings that history to life in a way that is accessible, exciting and enjoyed by people of all ages.

I am particularly pleased that the Bay to Birdwood continues to evolve while staying true to what makes it such a special event. It provides an opportunity for long-time enthusiasts to share their passion, while inspiring younger generations to discover the joy of motoring and the stories behind these remarkable vehicles.

Whether you are taking part behind the wheel, welcoming the convoy through your community, enjoying the Finish Festival at Birdwood or simply watching from the roadside, I hope you have a wonderful day.

Most of all, I hope you enjoy this extraordinary South Australian tradition – and the people, vehicles and stories that make the Bay to Birdwood such a fantastic event.

Hon Peter Malinauskas MP
Premier

MINISTER FOR EDUCATION, TRAINING AND SKILLS

The Honourable Lucy Hood MP

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the 2026 RAA Bay to Birdwood and this year, I am especially excited to be taking part and joining the action myself.

For more than four decades, the Bay to Birdwood has brought South Australians together to celebrate our motoring history. From the remarkable veteran and vintage vehicles to the classics many of us grew up with, every vehicle has a story and together they tell an important part of our state's social and cultural history.

This year I will have the privilege of experiencing the event from behind the wheel, driving a very special vehicle from South Australia's State History Collection, the National Motor Museum's 1968 Holden HK Brougham.

Built at the end of the 1960s and owned by former Prime Minister Sir John McEwen, the HK Brougham represents an era when Holden was woven deeply into Australian life. I'm looking forward to taking it out on the road and joining more than 1,500 historic vehicles on the journey from West Beach to Birdwood.

What makes this event so special is that the celebration extends far beyond the vehicles themselves. Thousands of people line the 67-kilometre route each year, families and friends gather together, and communities from the coast through metropolitan Adelaide and into the Adelaide Hills become part of the occasion.

The Finish Festival at the National Motor Museum is a fitting destination to get up close to some extraordinary vehicles and enjoy the hospitality of the Adelaide Hills. Most importantly it is an opportunity to celebrate the people who preserve, restore, drive, and share our motoring heritage.

Events like the RAA Bay to Birdwood help bring our history to life. They connect generations, strengthen communities and remind us that history isn't something that exists only behind glass – sometimes, we get to climb into the driver's seat.

I'm delighted to be doing exactly that this year, and I look forward to seeing you along the road to Birdwood.

The Hon Lucy Hood MP
Minister for Education, Training and Skills
Minister for Autism
Minister for the City of Adelaide

CHAIR, RAA BAY TO BIRDWOOD

David O'Loughlin

There is something quite special about seeing Adelaide's streets filled with historic vehicles on Bay to Birdwood morning.

As a long-time participant, I know the feeling well. The early start, the wonderful volunteers at West Beach, the first wave from spectators along the route and, eventually, the sight of historic Birdwood ahead. This year I'll once again be there in my 1955 Triumph TR3 – although for the first time, I'll also have the great privilege of experiencing the event as Chair of the RAA Bay to Birdwood.

It is an honour to take on this role for an event that means so much to so many people.

I have long held a fascination with the design and heritage of the 20th century. The technological and cultural advances were extraordinary and were reflected in architecture, fashion and, naturally, the evolution of cars. From steam and electric to fuels, belts and chains to shafts, timber on steel chassis to monocoque, flat windscreens to streamlined, total loss oil systems to pollution control, leather to vinyl and then velour – 20th century cars had it all!

The vehicles gathered for the RAA Bay to Birdwood are wonderful examples of this. They tell stories of changing technology and design, certainly, but also of the people who built them, bought them, drove them, maintained them and, sometimes against all odds, kept them on the road. That is what makes this event much more than a spectacular collection of historic vehicles.

The RAA Bay to Birdwood belongs to its community. It belongs to the entrants who spend countless hours preserving and preparing their vehicles; the clubs and volunteers who contribute their time and expertise; the families who have made the event an annual tradition; and the tens of thousands of people who find their favourite spot along the 67-kilometre route and wave us through each year.

In 2026, we are building upon that wonderful tradition. At Birdwood, an enhanced Finish Festival will give visitors even more reasons to make a day of it, while our new drive-on awards stage will put some extraordinary vehicles – and the people who care for them – quite literally in the spotlight. Across the event, we continue to look for ways to celebrate what people have always loved about the RAA Bay to Birdwood, while ensuring it remains vibrant, relevant and welcoming for generations to come.

To my fellow entrants, our volunteers, officials, sponsors, partners, spectators and everyone who contributes to making this extraordinary event possible: thank you.

I look forward to joining you on the road to Birdwood.

RAA CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Nick Reade

RAA's been fuelling South Australia's love of the car since the very beginning.

We were founded in 1903 by a handful of motoring enthusiasts. That same passion for the road and helping our members hasn't faded one bit, now 123 years later.

The RAA Bay to Birdwood is our chance to celebrate that heritage in style, in a year when we've had our history very much front of mind.

We've just farewelled our long-held homes at Hindmarsh Square and Mile End and moved into new spaces on Grenfell Street (RAA City) and at West Croydon (RAA West). Walk into either and you'll find our own history on display: the milestones, the people and the vehicles that built this organisation and helped shape South Australia along the way. Pop in for a look, and a coffee, next time you're nearby.

So it feels right that in the same year RAA has been reflecting on where we've come from, we're once again backing an event built entirely on that idea. Every Bay to Birdwood pulls generations of vehicle owners, enthusiasts and spectators onto the same stretch of road, united by nothing more complicated than a shared love of getting there the old-fashioned way.

Whether you're lining the route, driving the 67km from coast to hills or soaking up the atmosphere at the National Motor Museum, you're part of something that's been going strong for decades.

We're proud to be back again this year, not just as key partner but out on the road ourselves. Keep an eye out for the RAA's fleet, old and new, in the parade.

Congratulations to everyone who keeps the RAA Bay to Birdwood running year after year – rain, shine or the odd breakdown. Enjoy the day. See you at Birdwood.

SA'S MOTORING TRAILBLAZERS

Long before thousands of spectators first lined the roads for the Bay to Birdwood, South Australia's early motoring trailblazers were laying the groundwork for organised drives, competitive runs and long-distance touring. The passion you feel behind the wheel today traces back over 120 years to a small, daring group who proved motor vehicles were built for the open road, friendly competition and extraordinary endurance.

We shine a light on three remarkable RAA members who took to the wheel and changed local motoring history forever.

Tom O'Grady

In 1898, French racing cyclist Anthelmina Serpollet arrived in Adelaide to demonstrate a motorised tricycle at Jubilee Oval (located just off North Terrace near the University of Adelaide). A crowd gathered with bated breath, but when the moment arrived, the fickle engine flatly refused to start.

While Serpollet drew the crowds to Jubilee Oval with her imported machine, it was local expertise that saved the show. Chief Mechanic Tom O'Grady, an employee at Lewis Cycle Works (owned by fellow RAA-founding member Vivian Lewis), rolled up his sleeves, diagnosed the fault and got the motor humming. Thanks to O'Grady's fix, Serpollet enjoyed a groundbreaking ride around town, officially introducing Adelaide to the age of power-driven transport.

Just five years later during a meeting at the clubrooms of the League of South Australian Wheelmen, O'Grady "spoke on the objects of the meeting and moved that a Motor Club be formed". It was at this pivotal moment that the Automobile and Motor Cycling Club of South Australia (now RAA) was established.

Florence Thomson

Florence Thomson made history as an RAA founding member, joining fellow motoring pioneer May Duncan during the club's earliest days. When the Club was just three weeks old, the two women joined with the first country members, Will and Albert Ohlmeyer. When the list of founding members was compiled, both Ohlmeyers were included but the two women weren't. Officially inducted as foundation members during the RAA's 2003 Centenary year, their recognition formally acknowledged the significant contribution of women to early motoring; a spirit Thomson boldly demonstrated through her groundbreaking success in competitive driving.

In an era when competitive driving was dominated by men, Thomson stood out as a fearless force on the course. A dedicated participant in early club drives, she was right there in the lineup for the Opening Run in 1903. By late 1904, she made her competitive mark at the RAA Gymkhana, taking out first place in the 'Car Stopping Race'.

Thomson continually pushed boundaries, earning fame as the first woman to drive a motor car between Adelaide and Melbourne. Her most ambitious undertaking arrived early in 1905 with the first Dunlop Reliability Trial, a gruelling interstate competition from Sydney to Melbourne. Driving a Wolseley as the sole female contestant among a hardened field, she faced immediate disaster on day one, crossing Paddy's River on the way to Goulburn where deep waters soaked her wiring and carburettor. Undeterred, she dried her engine, pressed on through tough terrain, and ultimately conquered the trial, placing an incredible sixth out of 11 starters in the Light Car Class.

Dr John Gunson

Dr John Gunson had a profound impact on South Australia's motoring legacy. Not only was he an RAA founding member, but he also made significant contributions to road safety and was the man behind the state's first-ever car purchase.

In September 1903, Gunson made history by buying an Oldsmobile, the very first motor car commercially sold in South Australia. That same year, he took part in the club's inaugural Opening Run, an event met with public awe. Reporting on the occasion, The Chronicle newspaper captured the spectacle:

"A large number of spectators assembled on North Terrace to witness the novel sight of motor cars and cycles forming into line for the run."

While a handful of motor vehicles had already rattled along Adelaide's cobblestones, the sight of a full fleet of cars and motorcycles assembling in formation was a sensational public curiosity.

Gunson served as RAA's Vice-President from 1909 and dedicated more than 30 years to the motoring community. His greatest legacy was his leading role in creating the Road Traffic Act, a contribution that earned him the honour of becoming the Association's first Honorary Life Member.

As you set out on today's historic run to Birdwood, you follow directly in the tyre tracks of these early legends, celebrating the same spirit of competition, camaraderie and adventure that launched South Australian motoring over a century ago.

AWARDS AND JUDGING

Celebrating excellence, authenticity and preservation in historic motoring, the RAA Bay to Birdwood Awards are among the most anticipated traditions of the event.

Across award categories, vehicles are assessed by an experienced panel of judges, recognising everything from exceptional presentation and originality to the thoughtful adaptation of historic vehicles for an electric future.

CONCOURS D'ELEGANCE

The Concours d'Elegance is the RAA Bay to Birdwood's premier award for vehicle presentation.

Presented in Pre-1950 and Post-1950 categories, the award recognises vehicles demonstrating an exceptional standard of presentation across areas including paintwork, engine bay, interior, and overall appearance.

Uniquely, the award also considers the presentation of the people travelling in the vehicle. Drivers and passengers are encouraged to embrace the fashion of their vehicle's era, with period-inspired attire contributing to the overall judging. Together, vehicle and fashion create a complete picture of an era in motoring history.

PRESERVATION AWARD

Introduced in 2016, the Preservation Award celebrates something increasingly treasured within the historic motoring community: originality.

Rather than rewarding restoration, the award recognises vehicles that have survived in outstanding original or carefully preserved condition, retaining the character, materials, and features acquired throughout their lives.

Presented in Pre-1950 and Post-1950 categories, the Preservation Award celebrates these remarkable survivors and the custodians who have helped preserve them for future generations.

OUR JUDGES

The RAA Bay to Birdwood Awards would not be possible without the expertise and generosity of our judging panel. Drawn from across the historic motoring community and related fields, our judges generously volunteer their time and considerable knowledge to assess this year's award entrants.

Our sincere thanks to each of them for their contribution to the RAA Bay to Birdwood.

FASHIONS ON THE FIELD

The RAA Bay to Birdwood may be a celebration of historic motoring, but sometimes it's the fashion that steals the show.

Each year, participants embrace the fashions of the eras represented by their vehicles, bringing more than a century of changing style to life – from the elegance of the early 1900s through to the unmistakable looks of the 1990s.

Like the vehicles themselves, fashion tells a story. What we wear reflects the social and cultural character of an era, and the outfits worn by RAA Bay to Birdwood participants add another colourful layer to the history on display.

Across the 67-kilometre journey from West Beach to Birdwood, thousands of participants wind back the clock – making the cavalcade as much a parade of changing fashion as it is of motoring history.

RAA Bay to Birdwood Awards

Presentation has always been an important part of the RAA Bay to Birdwood Awards. Judging considers not only the presentation and authenticity of each vehicle, but also the presentation of its driver and passengers.

Entrants in the Concours d'Elegance category who coordinate their outfits to complement the era and character of their vehicle earn points, with vehicle and fashion presentation combining to determine the overall award results. Winners will be celebrated at the Finish Festival.

Fashions on the Field Competition

Fashions on the Field is a much-loved part of the RAA Bay to Birdwood Finish Festival, giving participants the opportunity to step into the spotlight and have their carefully considered outfits celebrated in their own right.

From top hats to acid wash, go-go boots to shoulder pads – and everything in between – the competition celebrates the extraordinary variety of fashion represented across more than a century of motoring.

There are three categories: Best Female Fashion, Best Male Fashion, and Best Group Fashion. Entrants are judged on historical interpretation, style and overall presentation, but above all, Fashions on the Field is about embracing the spirit of the occasion, getting creative and having fun.

HARTNETT RESTORATION

Restoration or preservation? This is the age-old question for both vehicle enthusiasts and motoring museums alike. While the former entirely returns the vehicle to its original state, the latter retains the vehicle in its found state with barely any new additions. At the History Trust of South Australia, there's a place for a little bit of both.

Historic Vehicle Mechanic Bruce Field has been hard at work since 2024, restoring the History Trust's own 1952 Hartnett Pacific to its former glory.

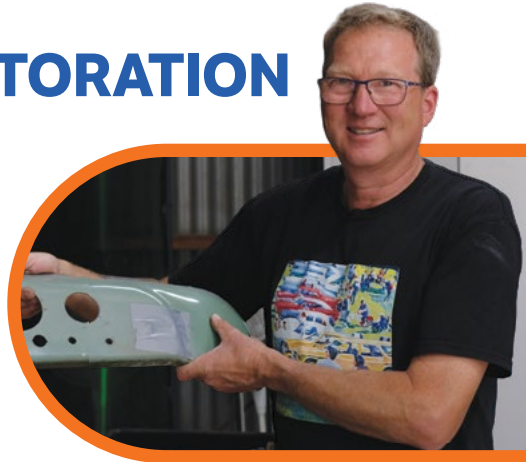

"The term 'restoration' can mean different things depending on what is trying to be achieved," says Bruce, "To us, the original parts are the history of the car, so preservation of components is a high priority."

After stripping the car of its mechanical and electrical components, Bruce has now rebuilt the engine, suspension components, and elements of the chassis, and plans to upgrade the electrical circuits. Bruce is "enjoying getting to know the breakdown of a very unusual car design and how it works".

However, in some instances, historical accuracy can only be achieved through newer additions. Bruce and the broader Collections and Exhibitions team have decided to try to "recreate the car as close as possible to when it was built", affording National Motor Museum visitors the rare chance to see this significant vehicle as it was intended.

Prior to its arrival at the Museum, previous attempts to modernise and refresh the Hartnett had adversely affected the paintwork and entirely altered the upholstery. These elements are now being fully restored from new materials, using samples and colour chips to match the original.

When choosing which vehicles and parts to restore versus preserve, the Museum considers various factors, such as functionality requirements, display needs, and part availability. It was the Hartnett's unique – and rare – position in Australian history that made it a primary contender for this significant project.

The namesake of the Hartnett Pacific was Sir Laurence Hartnett, inaugural Managing Director of General Motors Holden. After nearly thirteen years with GMH, Hartnett established his own all-Australian motor manufacturing company. The 'Hartnett' model was based on the French Gregoire car and was fitted with a horizontally opposed twin-cylinder engine. Two small and economical body-styles were offered – the hard-top Tasman and the soft-top Pacific. Only around 120 cars were produced between 1949 and 1955, before supply and demand issues led to the company's dissolution.

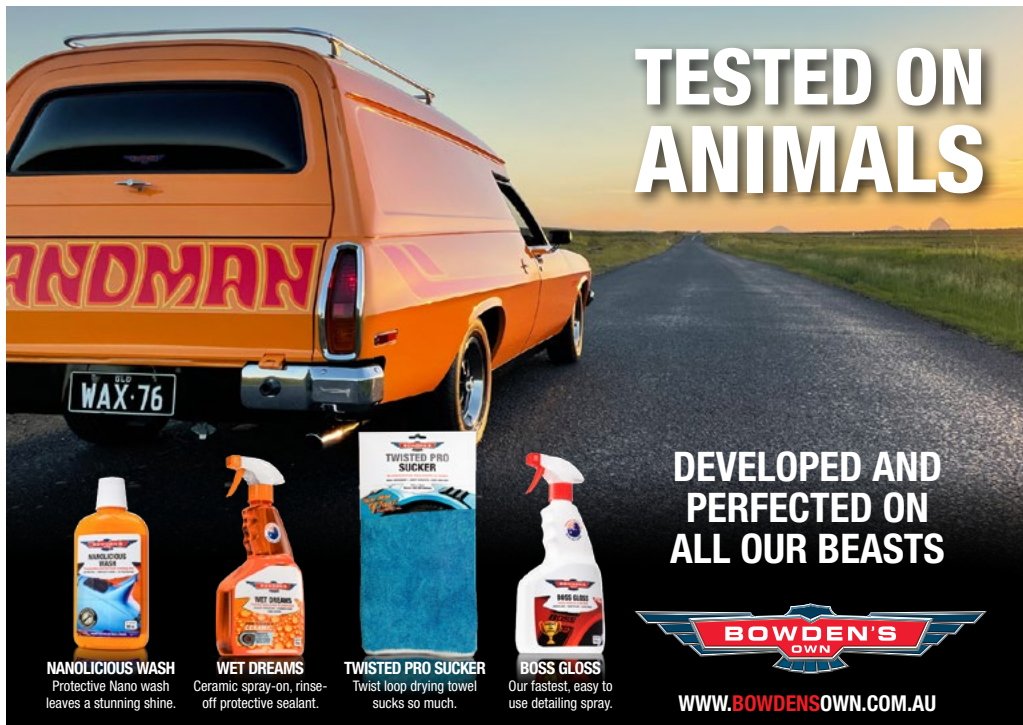

Today, there are only three 1952 Hartnett Pacific cars known to exist in Australia, including at the National Motor Museum. Believed to have once belonged to a farmer in Western Australia, this vehicle was possibly the only Hartnett of its kind ever officially registered for road use. Rather than fading into obscurity, this project will allow Australians to experience an important moment from our motoring past.

So, when can we expect to see the restored Hartnett on show?

"When I'm not busy looking after the rest of the Museum collection!" Bruce laughs, "Although, I would like to see it out for the next RAA Bay to Birdwood in 2027."

Until then, enthusiasts can follow the restoration journey on the National Motor Museum socials, and visit the Museum to see the 1948 Hartnett Gregoire prototype on display.

STUCKEY TYRE SERVICE

Our History

Stuckey Tyre Service was established in 1966 and moved to Brunswick Victoria in 1969 where we operate to this day. Founded by my parents Col and Bet Stuckey, it is still a family business. To this day 20 family members have worked in the business.

In 1972 we were appointed as Dunlop Motorsport Distributor and we are currently the longest serving Dunlop Motorsport Distributor in the world. Our slogan "Racing Since 1972" comes from this significant event. Our Motorsport activities have seen us supporting customers in Malaysia, Japan, UK and Europe as well as most Australian racing circuits. This includes Bathurst, where we supplied most winners until 2000 when control tyres were introduced.

Our Tyres

Whilst Motorsport tyres are still an important sector of our sales, we have broadened our product lineup. Since 2000 we were officially appointed Distributors by Michelin Vintage tyres France. These tyres are incredibly important for the Vintage and classic car fraternity, as Michelin continue to make over 100 unique sizes from 12" to 21" rim diameters including metric sizes. Such iconic patterns as Double Rivet, XAS, XWX and TRX are still in production.

More recently Pirelli have appointed us as Distributor for their range of classic tyres. This is exciting news for Classic car owners as Pirelli have developed a range of approximately 50 sizes from 12" to 18", also including some metric sizes as well. Famous Pirelli patterns include CA67, CN36 and P7 Cinturato. So now our product range of tyres for Classic cars includes other famous brands such as Avon, Dunlop, Goodyear, Firestone, Excelsior, Vredestein, Goodrich, Ensign, Lucas, and Blockley.

Following the success of our famous Classic range of tyres, we now add Antique and Vintage tyres. The biggest name in Vintage car tyres is the Blockley brand, based in England. We are honoured to have been appointed sole Australian Agent for Blockley Tyres and stock the full range. These include vintage tyres in sizes from 15" to 21" and also Beaded edge tyres.

Following our appointment as Blockley Agent, we took over the business of Old World Tyres based in Mudgee, NSW. This business specialised in importing tyres for Vintage and Veteran cars. So now we can service the Vintage tyre market with a full range of tyres, tubes and rust bands.

Our Services

Our workshop is equipped with the latest equipment for servicing Vintage and Classic tyres and wheels. In particular we are able to balance classic wire wheels without any ugly weights showing.

Our Mission

Our mission is to expertly supply and service a wide range of quality tyres and tubes for collectible cars. Feel free to contact us to discuss your requirements. Many tyres available from stock, and many more through our worldwide contacts.

DARRACQ

Meet the newest member of the National Motor Museum vehicle collection – a 1903 8hp Darracq.

Founded by Alexandre Darracq in 1896, Darracq were at the forefront of motoring in Europe. Their presence at early European motoring events quickly built a reputation for high reliability and speed.

This particular vehicle is believed to have been purchased from Knowles Automobile and Motor Power Ltd of Spencer Street, Melbourne. A.J. Knowles, an early cyclist, had previously managed a cycle works before progressing into selling motorcycles, and eventually automobiles under his own name. In the early 20th century, the Australian motoring public were limited in their choices of vehicle. An enterprising Knowles struck a deal with Alexandre Darracq to act as his sole agent in Australia, and established showrooms in both Sydney and Melbourne.

In 1956, veteran car enthusiast, Mr Reg Jamison, was on a trip from Adelaide to Melbourne for the Olympic Games when he recovered the abandoned vehicle, scattered in pieces across multiple properties in the Wimmera, Victoria. His restoration of the vehicle took two years and significant remanufacture or renewal of missing mechanical and body components. During this time the vehicle acquired the affectionate nickname of Mimi.

Once fully restored, Mr Jamison took Mimi to several veteran car events, including the inaugural 1996 RAA Bay to Birdwood and the 75th, 90th and 100th Anniversaries of the Royal Automobile Association of South Australia (RAA). As a result of his restoration work and rally attendance, Mr Jamison became a founding member of the Wimmera and Mallee Historic Vehicle Society.

In the 1980s, the Darracq was donated to the RAA, who have brought the much-loved vehicle to numerous Bay to Birdwood events. In 2026, it was donated to the History Trust of South Australia. Mimi now joins a collection of significant vehicles that tell the story of Australia through motoring – a story of innovative transport, early international trade, and, as the RAA Bay to Birdwood continues to demonstrate, our connections to the vehicles that shape us.

THE WORLD'S MOST POPULAR CAR 60 YEARS OF TOYOTA COROLLA

Disclaimer: the author of this article is the owner of three Toyotas, including a 2006 Toyota Corolla Ascent.

The Toyota Corolla turned 60 this year. First introduced into Japan in 1966 as the People's Car, it was then exported internationally to Australia soon after in 1967.

Before the Corolla, Toyota initially struggled to gain traction in the Australian market with the Toyota Toyopet, an affordable post-War small family car, unable to compete with the popular Holden 48-215, which was the first wholly Australian-built production car. In 1957, Toyota sent a team of drivers to Australia and entered the Toyopet in the Mobilgas Round Australia Trial. While it didn't win, after 17,000 kilometres, crossing the finish line alone was an achievement. As well as demonstrating the quality of Japanese automobiles to the Australian market, the Toyopet acquitted itself well and Toyota learned much about the road conditions faced by Australian drivers.

In 1963, the Toyota Corporation signed an assembly agreement with Australian Motor Industries (AMI) for the Toyota Tiara, a small 4-cylinder car which also features in the National Motor Museum collection. This was the Toyota Corporation's first overseas joint venture and its success with Tiara sales led to further assembly agreements.

Compared to the modestly styled 1940s and 1950s Toyopet and the small, light Tiara, when it came to the Corolla, Toyota designed it with a much sportier design. Class victories at the 1968 and 1969 Bathurst 500 helped to build brand awareness in Australia, but sales continued to grow slowly. Compared to larger Australian and American cars that were popular in the 1970s, the Corolla was considered too bland to get excited about. Its main selling points were fuel efficiency, affordability, and durability, as well as including features that other brands sold as optional extras, like heaters.

Local production of Corollas began in 1968 and continued through to 1999, with more than 666,000 Australian-built Corollas assembled in factories at Port Melbourne, Dandenong, and Altona in Melbourne.

The popularity of Corollas continued to increase over time. Fuel efficiency and the introduction of pioneering catalytic converters ensured the Corolla gained popularity during the 1975 global fuel crisis, with annual sales reaching 20,000. However, it was when the Corolla had a series of motorsport victories, including the 1999 World Rally Championship, and Toyota introduced front lip spoilers and chrome-plated grille surrounds that sales really took off, with 30,000 sold in 2000.

The popularity of the noughties era Corollas came from a combination of the updated sporty look, strong brand awareness, and Toyota's commitment to quality, reliability, and durability. With over 40,000 sales by 2005, Corolla achieved top-seller status in September 2005, again in June and July 2006, and yet again in January, June and December 2007. It topped the market from 2013-2015 and still endures today, with cumulative global sales now more than 57 million.

Corolla is now in its 12th generation with a major advance in 2016 that introduced the hybrid power train, achieving even greater fuel efficiency. Whether you love them, hate them, or are simply bored of them, Corolla's popularity and success in Australia is impossible to ignore.

An impressionistic painting of a coastal scene. In the foreground, two people are swimming in vibrant turquoise water. One person is on the left, wearing a dark swimsuit, and the other is on the right, wearing a pink and white patterned swimsuit. The water is rendered with thick, expressive brushstrokes in various shades of blue, green, and yellow. In the background, a large, craggy rock formation dominates the upper half of the frame, painted in shades of purple, blue, and brown. The overall style is painterly and evocative, capturing a sense of summer and relaxation.
